Professor Hou Jianguo
President
Chinese Academy of Sciences

Dear Professor Hou,

On behalf of the Brazilian Academy of Sciences, it is my great honor and privilege to extend our heartfelt congratulations to the Chinese Academy of Sciences and its esteemed Academic Divisions on the momentous occasion of its 70th anniversary.

For seven decades, the Academic Divisions of the Chinese Academy of Sciences (CASAD) have played an instrumental role in advancing scientific research, fostering innovation, and guiding the development of science and technology in China and beyond. CASAD's unwavering commitment to excellence has significantly contributed to global scientific progress, promoting collaboration, knowledge sharing, and transformative discoveries that have shaped numerous fields.

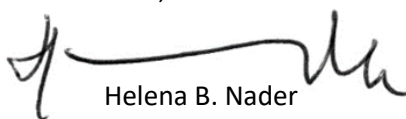

The remarkable achievements of the Academic Divisions are a testament to the dedication and intellectual prowess of its esteemed members, whose groundbreaking research has enriched humanity's understanding of the world.

The CASAD play a crucial role in advancing scientific research and innovation in China. These divisions, consisting of specialized institutes and experts in various fields, foster interdisciplinary collaboration and drive national scientific progress. By providing leadership and resources, the CAS divisions contribute to major breakthroughs in fields like natural sciences, engineering, and environmental studies. They are essential for shaping China's scientific policies, enhancing international cooperation, and promoting the application of research for economic and societal development. Overall, these divisions help maintain China's position at the forefront of global scientific advancement. It is most relevant to emphasize that from pioneering advancements in fundamental sciences to addressing critical global challenges, the contributions of CASAD continue to inspire and lead the international scientific community.

As CASAD celebrates this historic milestone, we commend the past accomplishments and eagerly look forward to witnessing the continued success and impact of the Chinese Academy of Sciences in the years to come. We remain committed to strengthening our collaboration and fostering deeper scientific exchanges that benefit society and the global scientific ecosystem.

Once again, congratulations on this extraordinary occasion. May the next decades bring even greater achievements, prosperity, and innovation.

With my warmest regards and best wishes,

Helena B. Nader
President
